Things We Never See

FRENCHMEN ARE GOOD FIGHTERS SAYS "KID"

Better Average Than Americans Because They Are Two Handed Scrappers.

CARPENTIER WILL NEVER BE A CHAMP

Great Interest in Coming Battle Between Jack Johnson and Moran Being Shown.

New York, April 20.—"The average French fighter is better than the average American fighter."

This was the declaration here today of Kid McCoy, famous old time pugilist, who has just returned from an extended trip abroad. The kid is selling health belts and after he sells a few thousand of these, he says, he will journey back to Paris in time to see the Jack Johnson-Frank Moran battle in June.

"Most of the American fighters can only hit with one hand," said McCoy. "The Frenchman can hit with both. A man that only carries a good left hand is trifled, as everybody knows, when he faces a fighter who stands with right arm extended. During the course of a fight the French boy will stand for a time with the right foot and hand extended. Then he will shift and fight for a while with the left foot and hand to the fore. Manifestly, a boxer that is ambidextrous is twice as dangerous as the fellow who only has one plan of defense."

"While I don't think the French nation will ever turn out any world's champions in the heavier classes, I look for many of them to become title holders in the bantam, feather and lightweight classes. The reason that they will never be successful in the heavy-weight class is their natural lack of size. None of them has sufficient height or weight to reach the top rung in the heavyweight division.

"Georges Carpentier will never become a world's champion. He has a yellow streak. He has the swellest kind of a swelled head. However, he is idolized in Paris. He is extremely popular and receives valuable presents, such as automobiles and diamonds from his admirers."

"The Frenchmen are dippy over the coming Johnson-Moran bout. I expect them to draw a $150,000 house. Many believe that Moran will relieve the negro of his title, as Johnson has been hitting the high places at a fearful clip of late. I don't think he will be able to enter the ring in first class condition, for the reason he has been idle too long."

O.A.C. WINS C.U. MEET

WILLAMETTE TAKES TWO POINTS WHEN SMALL LANDS THIRD PLACE IN 50-YARD DASH.

Oregon Agricultural College won the Columbia indoor meet held at Columbia University, Portland, Saturday afternoon with University of Oregon and Multnomah Club tied for second place. O. A. C. totaled 37 points while the latter two each had 32 to their credit at the end of the meet.

Willamette University's first venture at sending representatives to the meet resulted in 2 points being recorded to the credit of the local university. Brazier Small taking a third in the 50 yard dash after he had placed second in the semi-finals.

Of the other two men who were sent to the meet nothing need be said save that they did their best. Mills anxiety to get under way in the high hurdle event caused him to be disqualified after he had started ahead of the gun for the fourth time.

Rice who entered the mile was shut out from the finish as were about two-thirds of those entered by being lapped by Hobgood while on his next to the last circuit.

All winter training with ample covered running sheds and other parphallia are necessary to prepare for a showing at an indoor meet and with the plans that are now in the process of formation it is assured that Willamette will be more of a contending factor in future Columbia meets.

W.U. WINS FROM PENN IN EXTRA INNING GAME

In one of the hardest fought contests ever staged on the penitentiary diamond the Willamette University team succeeded in wresting victory from the State Prison nine Saturday afternoon after the game had gone 16 innings to the score of 4 to 3.

The game was won and lost several times only to have some brilliant play rendered impossible what was seemingly certain defeat. The ninth found the score board reading 2 to 3. The end of the seventh changed this marking to 3 to 3 and in the sixteenth Willamette's winning tally was added when Bain crossed the plate from second on Shisler's long single.

To Bain and Lund center and left fielders belongs the credit for saving the game at two different periods by plays sensational enough for the most exacting fans. Bain's feat occurred in the fourteenth when with the bases full and one down king sent a long skier to center. Only Bain's perfect peg shut out the tally that would have brought an abrupt close to the contest. Lund's feature stunt was pulled an inning later when with a man on third Clark sent a low hard drive to right. By tall sprinting Lund attained the path of the ball just in time to snag it some 6 inches above the turf and then go rolling for some 20 feet. He came up smiling however and with the horse hide securely tucked away in his mitt.

Adams did the heaving for the varsity boys for the first nine innings allowing but 2 hits. Peffer took the mound for the final 7 rounds dealing out some of the fastest balls the penn team had inspected lately. The score by innings: W. U. 0 0 0 0 2 0 0 0 1 0 0 1—4 9 5 Penn. 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0—3 5 3 amusement for the spectators at the expense of the varsity team by discussing all stages of the game, ordering steals and hit and run plays, right under the nose of the university boys without it being possible for them to understand the tactics that were about to be employed.

The Mute School boys appeared in brand new uniforms of gray trimmed in black. They have a fair team this year and will be heard from before the season is over.

THREE DIE WHEN AUTO PLUNGES THROUGH RAILING

Astoria, April 20.—When the automobile in which they were riding skidded on a railroad track and plunged through a railing 30 feet downward into six of water, Mrs. Kritina Gimre and her two daughters, Victoria, aged 8, and Ellen, aged 6, were pinned beneath the car and drowned. Even Gimre, the woman's husband, sustained a broken wrist but clung to the car until rescued. He is in a state of nervous collapse today.

The fire department was summoned and after the car had been pulled to shore, Fireman Stetten dived and recovered the bodies of the three victims. Removed to a hospital, efforts were made to resuscitate them, but to no avail.

ROBBER KILLS CONDUCTOR.

San Francisco, April 20.—Conductor Lewis H. Seymour, of the California street cable line, died today of a bullet wound inflicted by a robber who attempted to hold up his car shortly before midnight. The robber, who said his name was Donald Anderson, was captured by two plain clothes men who were riding on the front end of the car.

The attempted robbery of Seymour occurred on California street between Webster and Fillmore. The bandit swung himself on the back platform ordered the conductor to throw up his hands and when Seymour refused, shot him in the jaw and dropped from the car. The two policemen gave chase and the capture followed.

JUST IMAGINE!

Suppose you wanted a job, or had a house to sell, or were looking for a hedges of some kind, would you try buttonholing a stranger to effect the desired arrangement? Suppose you stepped up to a likely looking person and began:

"Sir (or Madam), I am anxious to lay before you a business proposition—"

How far do you suppose you would get in stating your case? The very idea is preposterous.

But there is a method by which you can buttonhole strangers and that method is the Journal Want Ads.

Try them, for you can always state your case as fully as you wish.

AN A B C THOUGHT FOR THE MERCHANT

Advertising creates a desire to see the goods advertised. Advertising of a nationally distributed product in the local newspapers which are read by the people with whom you do business every day, will lead "that desire to see" right to your store.

It is simply business horse-sense to show the people what they want to see.

In other words, when you display and push goods advertised in your local newspapers, you are making your store a Public Service Store in the best sense of the word.

That's the A B C of the whole situation.

COFFROTH FIXES UP BOUT BETWEEN MURPHY AND WELSH

San Francisco, April 20.—That he had arranged a match here in June over the 30 round route between Freddie Walsh and Harlin Tommy Murphy was the announcement today of Promoter Coffroth. The winner probably will meet Champion Willie Ritchie.

Welsh is scheduled to meet Leach Criss in Los Angeles at an early date, and, of course, the Murphy match is contingent upon the outcome of that affair.
